SUMMARY

I am an early career evolutionary biologist, currently employed as a Global Genome Initiative Postdoctoral Fellow (GGI), at the Smithsonian Institution, in the USA. I have an extensive teaching and mentoring experience in higher education, lecturing and supervising undergraduate and graduate students in Brazil, Denmark, Peru, and the USA. My student-centered approach is based on different active learning strategies (e.g., flipped classroom, student lead small group sessions) and aims to motivate students to be active participants of the learning and discovery process. I am also committed to educational innovation and didactic skills development, integrating, and communicating new developments with the department, as evidenced by my teacher-scholar track. My research integrates systematics, biogeography, phylogeography, ecology and genomics to understand the diversity and evolution of terrestrial organisms, especially of non-model organisms. To achieve these aims, I perform a combination of field-based and wet-lab work coupled with bioinformatics to unravel evolutionary patterns and ecological processes of animals across the world. My strengths rely on the broad scope of my work, good understanding of evolutionary and ecological theory and my technical abilities to analyze large and complicated datasets. The impact of my research can also be seen through my collaboration with researchers from more than 10 countries and multiple research groups.

EDUCATION

- 2014–2017 Ph.D. (Biodiversity), Center for Macroecology, Evolution and Climate (CMEC), University of Copenhagen, Denmark
Advisor: Nikolaj Scharff
- 2011–2013 M.Sc. (Zoology), Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (UFRJ), Brazil
Advisor: Adriano B. Kury
- 2007–2011 B.Sc. (Biology), Federal University of the State of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil
Advisor: Maria Inês da Silva dos Passos

PROFESSIONAL APPOINTMENTS

---

- 2019–present Postdoctoral Research Biologist (Global Genome Initiative), National Museum of Natural History, Smithsonian Institution, USA. Supervisor: Hannah Wood.
- 2019 First child born (02/10/2019).

- 2017–2019 Postdoctoral Research Biologist (Peter Buck), National Museum of Natural History, Smithsonian Institution, USA. Supervisor: Hannah Wood.
- 2017 Three months in-between appointments (03/2017 to 05/2017).
- 2014–2017 Full time education, during these years I obtained a M.Sc. degree in Zoology (Brazil) and a Ph.D. degree in Biodiversity (Denmark).
- 2012–2013 Environmental Consulting, Work Plan of the Monitoring Program of the Biota and Limnology, Expansion of the "Terminal Cabiunas" (TECAB), Petrobras, Brazil.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

- 2021 Lecturer undergraduate course Invertebrate Zoology, Federal University of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil (virtual; one class; 20 students).
- 2020 Lecturer undergraduate seminar Careers in Biology, Faculdade Sao Lucas, Rondônia, Brazil (virtual; one class; ~150 students).
- 2020 Lecturer elementary students Entomology, Maple Bear, Londrina, Brazil (virtual; one class; 25 students).
- 2019 Lecturer high schoolers, Exploring Entomology After School Program, Smithsonian Institution, USA. Used a novel model developed by UC Berkley to show how the process of science works (one class; 10 students).
- 2018 Lecturer undergraduate Diversity, ecology and evolution of whip spiders, Washington and Lee University, Virginia, USA. Students' evaluation here (one class; ~30 students).
- 2014–2016 Lecturer at the Biology undergraduate course in Entomology and Terrestrial zoology; University of Copenhagen, Denmark. Involved one-week field work and in class lectures about ecology, conservation, systematics, and evolution of terrestrial fauna (3 classes each year; ~180 students total).
- 2011–2013 Lecturer at the Biology undergraduate course Arthropods; Federal University of the State of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Involved lab and in class lectures about ecology, systematics, and evolution of Cheliceriformes (2 class each year; ~90 students total)
- 2008–2011 Zoology Tutor, provided lab lectures and administered exams on Morphology, Ecology and Evolution of Insects, Arachnids, Crustaceans and Myriapods; Federal University of the State of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil (semester-long classes; ~250 students total).

MENTORING EXPERIENCE

- 2020–present Master's student Joao Frederico Berner: Species distribution modelling and conservation of the amblypygid genus Heterophrynxus. Federal University of Mato Grosso do Sul, Brazil. Co-supervision.
- 2019–2020 Master's student Jéssica Tagliatela: Reassessing the phylogeny of Amblypygi. Federal University of São Carlos, Brazil. Co-supervision.
- 2018–2020 Master's student Vanessa Vidal: Behavioural studies on two species of the genus Charinus (Amblypygi). Emilio Goeldi Museum, Federal University of Pará, Brazil. Co-supervision. Paper #30.

- 2018–2019 Undergraduate student Andrea Palomino Cardenas: Molecular characterization of the Amblypygi (Arachnida) and new records to the Cusco Department, Peru. National University of San Antonio Abad del Cusco, Peru. Co-supervision.
- 2018–2019 Undergraduate student Rowan French: Microendemics of Madagascar: diversity, systematics and phylogeography of Malagasy Schizomida using Ultraconserved Elements (UCEs). Summer internship at the Smithsonian Institution; student from University of Alberta, Canada. Supervision.
- 2018–2018 Undergraduate student Gabriel Seraphim: On the thelyphonid genus Typopeltis Pocock, 1894: description of a new species and redescription of T. guangxiensis (Thelyphonida, Thelyphonoidea, Thelyphonidae). Federal University of the State of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Co-supervision. Paper #24.
- 2014–2015 Undergraduate student Kristian Greisen: Description of new genus and species of Schizomida from the Eastern Arc Mountains, Tanzania. University of Copenhagen, Denmark. Co-supervision.
